

FRENCH GENERAL WARNS GERMANS THAT "HE WILL BREAK THEIR STUBBORNNESS"

OPERA STAR, CHAUFFEUR HUSBAND DIVORCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, grand opera star, whom her husband called an "idiot," was free today of the bonds of matrimony she contracted with Floyd Glatz, who described himself as "wild mustang." Glatz, before he met the prima donna and after he separated from her, was a chauffeur. He said an orchid and will mustang would not thrive under the conditions.

Mrs. Matzenauer was awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce from Glatz yesterday in superior court here on a cross-complaint she filed some time ago, after Glatz had sought marital freedom on the ground that she practiced cruelty on him. She, in turn, alleged cruelty and asserted Glatz had maintained a relationship with another woman whom she named.

Among Glatz's specifications of cruelty were allegations that his wife desired him to have breakfast in bed and to have him hook her gowns. He published statements he declared he was a "he man" and would rather be a chauffeur in California than remain with her and act as a "lady's maid."

Yesterday's trial of the case was brief. Only one witness, Glatz's lawyer, was called by Mrs. Matzenauer's counsel, but a quantity of documentary evidence was offered including depositions from both parties in which each reiterated published statements; checks drawn by Mrs. Matzenauer to Glatz bearing the purported endorsement of the women with whom the cross-complaint alleged Glatz had maintained relations; a letter declared to be from Glatz to Mrs. Matzenauer, signed Glatz, and a telegram which was asserted to be from Glatz to Mrs. Matzenauer's New York attorney saying the sender would give to the newspapers a story of "their intimate relations" unless satisfactory arrangements were made.

No evidence was offered in Glatz's behalf. The singer was given the right to resume her maiden name.

Bandits Kidnap Five Army Men, Steal $43,000 Payroll-Escape

SHOT BY POLICEMEN
CLEVELAND, O., January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Peter McClain, 45, alleged swindler, who, police say, has evaded arrest since September, was on the verge of death today as the result of being shot through the back and abdomen, while running away from three policemen sent to arrest him at his home late last night. If he recovers he will face two charges of obtaining money under false pretense, police said.

HAMPTON ROADS, VA., January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Captain Norman D. Cole and the four enlisted men with him when the party was kidnaped by two men as they left the First National Bank of Hampton, this morning with a $43,000 payroll for Langley Field, were found this afternoon near Big Bethel, bound hand and foot. The automobile in which the officer and his guards went to the bank to get the payroll, was found nearby, badly damaged. Captain Cole said the two bandits escaped through the woods with the money.

ROY CROCKETT AND ANDREW MOORE, who said they saw Captain Cole leave the bank, told the police that a man pointed two revolvers at the officer as he stepped into the car while a companion covered the guard from the other side of the car machine.

He said the two men kept Captain Cole's party covered as the machine was headed toward Newport News, at a high rate of speed.

"I thought the men with the revolvers was an army guard and that the others were prisoners who were being taken away," Crockett declared. He said the whole affair was carried out so methodically that he thought the man with the revolvers was making an arrest.

Chiropractors Are Denied Injunction

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—Chiropractors lost in the state supreme court today in their effort to stay prosecutions by the state medical board for practicing without a license from the board pending final determination of their fight by the highest tribunal. The court today refused to grant them a temporary restraining order against the medical board which had been applied for by George D. Meeker of Cincinnati.

British Cabinet Not Enjoying Tranquility Promised The Country By Premier

LONDON, January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The British cabinet is not enjoying that tranquility with Premier Bonar Law prescribed for the country upon taking office.

As the ministers today met to consider Stanley Baldwin's report on his American mission it was under the shadow of a Near East war cloud and the shifting gloom of the Ruhr situation.

The two latter subjects will engage the attention of the cabinet in part, but the primary purpose of the meeting was to deal with Great Britain's debt to the United States.

Some of the cabinet members are credited with the opinion that it would be better to continue paying five per cent interest on the debt as it now stands, relying on the hope that better terms can be arranged in the near future.

Mr. Baldwin in an interview with the Daily Mail regarding the effect of his Southampton interview in the United States said he was sure that if the whole statement had been read in the United States no exception would have been taken to it.

The financial circles of London, according to the best informed writers, largely incline toward acceptance of the American commission's terms, although some would stipulate that if at the end of a decade, monetary conditions improved in Great Britain's favor, this country would be allowed the full benefit of that change in a revision of terms.

Some financiers, however, favor immediate acceptance, contending that the difference of four or five million pounds sterling between what Mr. Baldwin tried to get and what America offered is too small to haggle over at the risk of disturbing the good relations between Great Britain and the United States.

$1,550,000 Overpaid On War Contracts

WASHINGTON, January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The amount agreed upon by the department of justice and the receiver for the Lincoln Motor Car Company, in settlement of the government's claim for alleged over payments on war contracts, is $1,550,000, according to William D. Ritter, assistant attorney general who said today however, that his figure was subject to approval of Judge Tuttle, of the federal district court at Detroit.

Policemen Lose Fight

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—Twenty-five Youngstown policemen who lost their jobs through reorganization of the police department by safety director Hamilton under the city ordinance, lost their fight for reinstatement in the state supreme court today. The court refused to consider their appeal, the lower courts having sustained the action of the safety director.

Treaty Provides Compulsory Exchange Of Populations

LAUSANNE, Jan. 30.—(By the A. P.)—Two conventions growing out of the deliberations of the Lausanne peace conference were signed today between Turkey and Greece. One provides for the mutual return of prisoners of war and hostages. The other puts into effect the compulsory exchange of populations arranged.

Colonel Plastiras, the Greek revolutionary leader, whose unannounced arrival here has created much speculation, was present in uniform at the brief ceremony.

The convention will become effective immediately, irrespective of the fate of the general peace treaty, but the impression is growing that the arrangements for his compulsory exchange of populations may never be carried out as both Greece and Turkey are likely to decide it will be undesirable.

Greeks Order 1923 Class To Be Ready For Call

GENEVA, January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The Greek minister at Bern, through the newspaper, has notified Greeks of the class of 1923 to hold themselves in readiness for a call to the colors. He said there would be no exemptions.

Two Are Slain In A Kentucky Gun Battle

CORBIN, KY., January 30.—(By the United Press)—Two men were killed in street fighting between Louisville and Nashville Railroad employees and special police here today. Two others were wounded.

THE DEAD
J. C. Barker, 42, L. & N. dispatcher.
George Yarden, 27, special guard.

THE INJURED
Jess Barker, 27, L. & N. switchman, shot through leg.
W. A. Day, special guard, slightly wounded.

The shooting started, guards claimed, when they tried to find out who had fired a shot, seeming to have come from where the Barker brothers were standing. The Barker brothers became angry, the guard charged, and opened fire. Several bullets pierced J. C. Barker's body. Yarden was shot through the head. Both died instantly.

HELD FOR MURDER

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—Columbus police today were holding John Eatherly, 36, of McCall, Ky., where he is said to be wanted for murder. According to the story told by Eatherly he killed his father-in-law, N. T. King, December 12, in a fight over domestic troubles.

MAIL CARRIERS TO FEED BIRDS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Starving country birds soon may be watching as vigilantly for the mailman as master-hungry humans do. Postmaster General Work has issued orders to rural route mail carriers to distribute grains along the routes for starving birds, when supplies of such nature are furnished to them. Rural route carriers were asked to render all possible assistance in the good cause.

PRIEST IS HELD FOR SHOOTING OF SERVANT

ERIE, PA., January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Sophia Szymanski, a servant in the parish house of St. Casimir's Polish Catholic church, was shot and killed as she approached the building in company with Mary Wojewski, the housekeeper, last midnight, and Rev. Father John Dambinski is being held in the police station awaiting the result of an investigation. The girl was shot three times through the heart. Father Dambinski was taken into custody shortly after the shooting. The police say they found him in bed and that while he at first was unable to give a clear version of the shooting, he afterwards told them the girl had been killed by accident.

According to the housekeeper, she and her assistant returning to the house shortly after midnight found the front door wide open. They entered the darkened hallway and saw the form of a man moving toward them from the nearest room. She screamed "burglars" and ran to the porch. Immediately she said three shots were fired.

The police declared they had found a pistol in a desk near Father Dambinski's bed. Two empty shells were found in the front room on the first floor.

CAPITOL JOKES

By Edward C. Little
U. S. Representative From Kansas, Second District

IN the spring of 1890 the Twentieth Kansas Territorial Legislature under Col. Rufus Fuston were fighting their way into Malolos, the insurrecto capital in the Philippines. They had had hard fighting and expected more of it.

Major Whitman and I were walking about by a shallow trench when we overheard some of the boys talking. They were in rather a solemn mood, expecting a bitter struggle.

One of them, the son of a Civil War Veteran, finally remarked: "Well, I don't care so much for this kind of life. My dad was in the Civil War and he knows all about this business. I guess it would have been better if he had come and I had stayed at home."

Dynamite Caps Explode

NOBOLSK, O., Jan. 30.—Dynamite caps seized in 1921 at the home of J. T. Muzzio, now in the Ohio penitentiary, exploded in a furnace at the court house this morning. The building was shaken and window glass broken. The dynamite caps had been overlooked in one of Muzzio's old suit cases while some of Muzzio's property was being burned.

Heavy Penalties Are Being Inflicted For German Opposition

(By the United Press)
German inhabitants of the Ruhr and Rhineland paid heavily today for their "weaponless guerrilla warfare" on France's army of invasion. Each instance of sabotage was met by the French with firm tightening of the military's grip.

Officials who refused to recognize the martial authority were promptly deported from the occupied areas.

Towns where resistance had been offered were put under martial law.

Curfew and early closing hours were meted out to communities where inhabitants by passive sabotage blocked completion of occupation. The Ruhr was cut off from communication with Germany, even official wires being taken over by the French.

The whole district was in a virtual state of siege.

The "Quid Orsay" today issued official denial of a report that twenty Germans had been shot in street fighting at Boppard.

Calmness of the invading troops in the face of antagonism on every side alone prevented bloodshed.

General Weygand and Minister of Public Works Le Troques went to Brussels for a final conference with the Belgians before establishing permanent martial rule in the Ruhr. It is understood the French will take over railroads and communications for the duration of their occupation possibly for years.

General Ludendorff in an interview at his quiet Munich villa, denounced France's militarism in the occupied area and warned of the peril of an uprising by German nationalists.

General De Goutte declared in a statement to the press today the French intend to stay in the Ruhr until German profiteers have given up a portion of their immense war profits for reconstruction of devastated France.

LONDON, January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—General De Goutte, in a statement to the press at Duesseldorf this morning, sounded the warning, according to the Evening News correspondent, that "they are mistaken to think our patience has no limit" and added that the allies occupying the Ruhr "will carry out their plans and will break the stubbornness of their adversaries."

At one point, according to the correspondent, the general said, "more general sanctions will be soon decided upon, and then it will be possible to say where the mad policy of the Berlin government has led Germany."

The provocative policy "did not succeed in shaking our self-command. The French army is not like the Prussian army. We are not anxious to put everything to the fire and sword and beat civilians in the same way as the disciples of Bismarck."

"Moderation, however, is not weakness. They are mistaken to think our patience has no limits."

The French commander asserted that the German political leaders were proceeding with a useless struggle and that they must be held responsible for the misfortune of their country.

"The allied governments," he said, "will not continue in the same way as they began. They will carry out their plans and will break the stubbornness of their adversaries. The high official or civil servant who obstructs our action will be arrested or expelled as will also people who will not recognize the right conferred on us by the peace treaty and international law."

Offenders will continue to be punished, General De Goutte declared, but if they cannot be arrested, their superiors will be held directly responsible.

Referring here to the more general sanctions which would soon be decided upon, he said, it was the purpose of the occupation forces to deal with the German government and not to sacrifice the German workers. The French wanted to force the industrial magnates to assist in the reconstruction of the devastated areas. He concluded:

"We intend to stay as long as may be necessary. We intend to use all the means in our power to achieve our ends. Nothing can turn us from our purpose."

Paris Denies Twenty Germans Were Killed

PARIS, January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The French foreign office declared today there was no truth in the report (printed this morning by a Paris newspaper) that twenty Germans had been killed in a clash with French troops at Boppard, near Blugem.

There has been no such trouble at Boppard, as reported, it was stated.

The Borgomaster was arrested for resisting the orders of the French military authorities, but there was no rioting.

The foreign office in complaining that a great deal of incorrect news was still in circulation regarding events in the Ruhr and on the left bank of the Rhine, said the reports of the strike were greatly exaggerated and that the situation had improved. (Continued on Page Six)

"PEG O' MY HEART" AT THE SUN

"Peg O' My Heart," the Oliver Morosco success which has for several seasons been a big drawing card as a road attraction, served as the offering for the Jack Ball Stock Co. for the first three days of this week. Last night both Miss Lewin and Mr. Whitaker added new laurels to their already long list of successful hits. As "Peg" Miss Lewin shown to possibly the best advantage of any role she has portrayed, it seemingly was not played, she really lived the part. Geo. Whitaker as "Jerry" gave a manly, convincing portrayal of the man in love with Peg. Work of all the members of the cast was entirely up to standard. The scenic production for this play was most admirably prepared by the deft hands of Francis Boyce and many stated that a more elaborate stage setting has never been seen on a local stage.

"Peg O' My Heart" is presented again tonight and tomorrow evening. Starting Thursday, a revival of Rupert Hughes' great story, "Tess of the Storm Country," is the bill. In this play Portsmouth people will have the opportunity of seeing Mr. Whitaker in the role he created with the original production.

Anti-Saloon League Head Faces Charges

William H. Anderson

William H. Anderson, for nine years head of the New York State Anti-Saloon League and one of the bitterest opponents of the "wet" faces serious charges that have been made to the District Attorney of New York City. The allegations were made by a former financial solicitor for the League, who asserts Anderson forced him to "split" his commissions; that Anderson drew $15,000 a year salary instead of the $10,000 he claimed his lawful salary and committed other financial irregularities. Anderson, replied that the entire charge is "a species of blackmail and extortion" on the part of his enemies.

Why the Nation Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength; it raises millions of bakings every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equaled.

—because it contains white-of-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasteful things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

That's why the sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Sunday School Night at U. B. Revival

A large crowd is anticipated at the special evangelistic service tonight at the United Brethren church when the various classes of the Sunday school will attend and fill the spaces that have been assigned in the auditorium. A good sized Monday evening crowd attended the services last night and everybody felt for the success of the meeting during the remainder. Eternal life was the special subject under consideration for the evening and almost the entire congregation gave evidence of the possession of Life Eternal. This evening at the special Sunday school session Rev. C. M. Sweazy of the "Nauvoo" church will bring the special message on "The Authority of the Word." The general public is urged to attend this service at Seven thirty.

Ohio Rising Slowly; Crest Will Be Reached Wednesday

With a stage of 37.3 feet registered here Tuesday morning when the stream continued climbing slowly at all points above, the crest of the present rise in the Ohio river is expected to reach Portsmouth by Wednesday noon. From present indications, according to local rivermen, the river will not reach the 40-foot mark here, while the prospects are that not over two feet additional water will be received in this district. While this would submerge the "Y" road, yet it would not be sufficient to greatly interfere with traffic over the roadway as it requires 38 feet to put the water on the road. The only boat movement Tuesday was the General Wood, which passed down at 3 a. m., bound for Cincinnati.

Auto Show To Be Real Thing

At the meeting of the Portsmouth Automobile Dealers last night further plans were made for the holding of Portsmouth's First Big Automobile Show in the new Universal Garage on Gallia street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 15, 16 and 17. It is expected that motorists from all parts of the tri-state region will be attracted to Portsmouth during the show, which will rival big exhibitions in the larger cities. The various committees, including Entertainment, Publicity, Decoration, etc., which are seeing that all of the details are being taken care of, gave reports last night of the work accomplished.

The matter of space assignments to dealers was given some discussion and the lack of sufficient room to display the many makes and models of motor vehicles and accessories is feared. The space problem will be given more attention at a special meeting to be held Thursday noon at the Mary Louise which every member is urged to attend.

Over $150,000 worth of automobiles will be placed on display, exclusive of the accessories which will include all of the latest conveniences and motor appliances.

Forger Is Nabbed

CHILLICOTHE, Jan. 30.—Don E. Rufford, alias Emory Connor, alias Dewey Chambers, of Columbus, who will go back to the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville to serve out an unexpired term for forgery, following his being picked up here when he passed a forged check on the East End Drug company, tried to cover up his tracks at police headquarters when he slipped a number of checks in the pocket of a raincoat hanging on the railing about the sergeant's office.

New Hospital May Be Under Roof March 1

SHERMAN TECH, Jan. 30.—Unbuilding of the new Camp Sherman Veterans' Hospital group will be under way and March 1, the main der roof, according to the belief of Constructing Quartermaster Lieut. M. P. O'Connor. Things are beginning to move more rapidly on the big job and it was reported Monday that all of the foundations in the north wing and half of the center of building No. 1 had been poured. Stripping of forms from the north wall will begin this week.

Excavation for nine of the 22 buildings under construction has been completed. About 21 percent of the water line has been laid.

No Hold Up On Gravel
Lieut. O'Connor Monday stated that the destruction of the gravel tipple in the East End, his not as yet held up the hospital work, and in all probability will not, as the Fuller Bros. Company are arranging to secure a gravel and sand supply elsewhere until the local tipple is rebuilt. There is a good sized supply of these materials on hand at present, enough to keep things going for several days, he explained.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or even syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and tracheal asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. What does the cup supply for you?

Many people find harm to health in the seeming friendliness of coffee and tea. They first notice the unfriendly side of their table drink in sleeplessness and nerve-irritation—signs that health is being disturbed by the drug, caffeine, which these beverages contain.

It pays to face the facts when health is involved. It's a good plan to look for the cause of restless nights and nerve-fagged days.

Postum is a safe and satisfying mealtime drink for everybody. It meets every demand of taste, and it contains nothing which can disturb health. The children may safely share it with you—as many cups as desired, without risk of disagreeable after-effects.

There's charm without harm in Postum—the famous cereal beverage.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

COLUMBUS, O., January 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—After hearing testimony about alleged abuse of power by voters in Pike county, the state election board, today resumed its hearing on the charges of election fraud in that county.

When Croup Comes At Night

The sudden hoarse bark of your child in the middle of the night may be the first warning of croup. It comes with startling swiftness, and means instant action—delays are dangerous. One small dose of Dr. Drake's Glisco relieves croup within fifteen minutes—without vomiting. Endorsed by doctors and druggists. 50c a bottle—worth $50.00 at 2 A. M.—Advertisement.

According to the committee reports, the money was passed in the Pike county election board, especially as they hear upon activities under the absent voters' law.

Chillicothe, Miss. Admissions. In two instances, testimony showed that money had been passed in connection with voting of absent voters. Stanley Moss, of Chillicothe, testified that three Waverly men who came to his home and got him to vote an absent voters ballot, gave him $5 for his time, and also gave him $5 to give to his wife. The wife testified to having signed some papers and that her husband gave her $5, after the three men had left. One of the men, both Mr. and Mrs. Moss testified was "Hookie" Dowdle, of Waverly. Mrs. Moss said she did not know she was voting when she signed the papers.

Mr. Moss also testified that he remembers his wife saying something about her uncle, Andrew J. Hawke, of Ross County, saying he would give her $25 to withdraw her vote, but had paid no attention to it. Mrs. Moss also says she remembers something about it but nothing definite. Hawke previously had testified that "Hookie" Dowdle and two other persons saw him one day in Chillicothe and wanted him to vote an absent voters ballot for Pike County, saying they would give him "twenty." Hawke said he refused as he did not think he had a right to vote in Pike County. He formerly had lived there. According to counsel for Mr. Foster, the records of the Pike County Election Board show that Hawke voted an absent voters ballot for Pike County.

"Doc" Nye Figures In Case. Carrie Hawke, wife of Andrew J. Hawke, testified that one day while in Waverly, Dr. George B. Nye met her and asked her to go to his office and vote an absent voters ballot, telling her she was eligible to vote in Pike County. She said she did so, voting "a suit myself." Later, she said Dr. Nye and another person came to her home in Ross County and asked her to withdraw her ballot. In Waverly a short time afterward, she said she went to the election board's office at the court house and asked to withdraw her ballot and that she signed her name to something there. She said she did not receive the ballot back. When she went to go home, Mrs. Hawke said Dr. Nye gave her $1, saying "now this is to take you home and not for voting."

Judge Gableman Testifies. Charles P. Gableman, former probate judge of Pike County and eight years postmaster of Waverly testified that as a member of the Democratic County Executive Committee, he handled women's organization and looked after the absent voters. He said the matter of voting, the ab-notices had been discussed by the committee and that precinct workers furnished a list of 500 or 600 names to whom he sent form letters and "an enclosed bank application" for an absent voters' ballot.

Through Gableman it was brought out that "Hookie" Dowdle was chairman for the Democratic Committee. Election Board Clerk Baylor on question by Attorney A. R. Johnson, of Ironton, representing Mr. Wynn, stated that the Republican-Herald of Waverly was awarded the contract for printing more than 6,000 election ballots at its bid of $190. The Democratic paper there, he said, had submitted a bid of $250.

Judge A. Z. Blair upon his arrival home from Columbus last night stated that the hearing was continued at the request of counsel.

BEAUTIFUL Toledo Woman

says money could not buy the splendid health Tangle gave her.

"Tangle has given me more strength and endurance than I ever hoped for," declared Mrs. Pearl Lambert, 722 Stickney Ave., Toledo, O., popular demonstrator.

"I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and it was all I could do to stay at work through the day. It was almost useless for me to go to meals or retire at night, for I could neither eat nor sleep to do any good. Burning headaches and terrible dizzy spells added to my misery and I was about ready to give up."

"Tangle quickly corrected my troubles. I have gained considerable weight and can stay on my feet all day without tiring. Money couldn't buy the good Tangle has done me."

Tangle is sold by all good druggists.

Over 35-million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Miss Pauline Welch, who has been ill at the home of her brother in law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Spangler, 222 Offshore Street, is slowly improving.

Mrs. T. M. Patterson will be hostess to the members of the Buckeye Club tomorrow afternoon at her home, 2045 Franklin Boulevard.

The Junita Club members will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. T. Anderson, 1225 Twenty-Second Street.

Opinions Of P. D. Parks

No doubt you have read the past few days of the drive the Medical Doctors are making against the Chiropractors of Ohio, and I have had numerous requests for my opinion in regard to this movement. These are my opinions:

That the Medical Trust loves the Chiropractic profession in the same ratio that the Turks love the Armenians and will massacre them whenever and wherever they can catch them. Moreover, the M. D.'s are badly afflicted with money-phobia and never lose an opportunity to squeeze a big, juicy fine out of a Chiropractor, for according to section 12699 of the Ohio Statutes all fines collected go into the pockets of the Medical Doctors. So you can see there is a reason.

And there are others: The administration of medicine being a failure in cases of functional troubles, the people go to Chiropractors where they get relief in fully 95 cases out of a hundred, and this makes the M. D.'s mad, and not being able to vent their rage and venom on the patient, they open a campaign of extermination against the Chiropractors, and if they can exterminate Chiropractic, then they will have no competition, and that is their object.

In the meantime if they would GET THEIR PATIENTS WELL there would be no competition, but as they are unable to do this and as their methods will not stand the competition of Chiropractic they are on a campaign of extermination, and it is being waged with much vigor.

Do you think they will succeed? They tried a campaign of extermination in California after they had blocked all efforts of the Chiropractors to get their own Board of Examiners through the legislature, but the Chiropractors went to the PEOPLE and at the last election the PEOPLE gave them their Board of Examiners by over 100,000 majority. Looks as if the PEOPLE want Chiropractic, does it not?

Would you who read this vote to give us our Board of Examiners in Ohio?

USE NATURAL GAS ONLY WHERE IT DOES USEFUL WORK

When water has come to a boil, the fire should be turned down or the vessel removed to a smaller burner, and just enough heat should be supplied to keep the water boiling.

No more water should be heated than is needed. The careless, wasteful use of hot water should be avoided, and leaking hot water faucets should be repaired immediately.

Careful attention should be given to the adjustment of air supply; if too little air passes to the flame, the gas is not completely burned, while on the other hand, excess air dilutes the products of combustion, reducing their temperature and decreasing the quantity of heat they give up to the water or air in the boiler or furnace.

To use gas efficiently and safely in room heaters, it is necessary to secure complete combustion, provide for proper ventilation and prevent unnecessary heat loss. Flue vents for room heaters are usually advisable, but heaters should be so designed and operated that flue gases are relatively cool when they leave the rooms.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN HANNON, wealthy ranch owner, his blind wife, BELLE, and their beautiful daughter, VAL, live happily together in Hannon's wonderful ranch home, Paradise.

Redstar is the king of the Red Brood of horses owned by the master of the ranch. Val, on Redstar, rides to the Mesa Grande and, while resting on its flat top, she sees a strange horseman on a mount amazingly like Redstar.

In a game at Hannon's store in Santa Leandra, VELANTRIE from the Border wins LOLA SANCHEZ, who offers herself as stake for BRIDEMAN, a man of mystery. Velantrio sends Lola home to her father.

FATHER HILLAIRE, in charge of the Mission near Paradise, is visited by his friend, Velantrio, who brings him a present of gold for his poor.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"I have ridden a day and half a night to bring you this. I will cover the same ground in the next few hours to get back from whence I came. But the bringing gives me joy."

He lifted the old man's hand and placed therein a buckskin bag heavy, and musical with the dull clink of gold.

"Take it," he said, "it is yours."

But Father Hillaire shuddered and his fingers slipped loose from the other's pressure, so that the bag fell back upon the table.

"I can't," he said sadly, "it is tainted gold."

"True," said Velantrio, gaily. "I took it from a mine-owner who owns a thousand peons, soul and body, who drives them through hunger and oppression down into the darkness of death with never a hope or a comfort." His soft voice had become suddenly hard and bitter.

Father Hillaire caught his own breath in a sigh.

"Oh, my son! I cannot vision such a thing! It cuts me to the heart! Give it up—give up this life. Start over—go away—into the north—somewhere—and forget these rides, these desperate risks, this dashing against the law of God and man!"

With a quick spring Velantrio was on his feet. He swept the bag of gold into his hand and held it out.

"Will you take it?" he asked evenly. "To buy food for your poor, your need, your sick, and your little ones that swarm here in our blessed garden? Or shall I ride south again and squander it on the gaming tables of Cajon and Caramento, on the girls of the dance halls?"

He was steady, cool, ready to do what he promised. Slowly the old priest rose to face him in the dusk. He stretched out a hand.

"I will take it, my son," he said, "a doubtful means to a holy end," and he took the bag of gold and dropped it in the deep pocket of his cassock.

Velantrio smiled, that brilliant lighting of his lean face that shone like a fire behind a curtain, and putting a hand on the other's shoulder shook it gently. Then he whistled and put his fingers to his lips. The whistle that startled the quiet garden was enough to split the eardrums. Instantly from the distant side of the enclosure where the stables stood there came an answer, a wild, shrill, heavy scream, the piercing neigh of a stallion, and a huge dark bulk came trotting swiftly down the walks beneath the trees, to rein, jerked from the hands of Bonifacio, dashing at its feet.

The Comet came to his master. Velantrio put his palm to the horse's lip, their secret sign of greeting.

"Goodbye, father," said Velantrio, gravely, "bueno noches. Vale!" he added gracefully, giving the farewell in three tongues.

Then he gripped the other's hand hard, caught the pommel and leaped into the saddle without a foot to stir, though the great horse stood seventeen hands to his bare shoulder.

There was a sudden leap, a thumder of hoofs on the hard-beaten earth, and they were gone, a wind and a bolt of speed, out through the gate which Bonifacio had opened.

For a long moment Father Hillaire stood in the dim light by the narrow door of the church and listened to the long-roll of their going, a lifting, exciting sound, and he shook his head and sighed and touched the gold in his pocket.

"I would that he came no more to this land of his destiny," he whispered miserably, "gay, reckless, lovable—and lost to all eternity. What if I told him of that other horse—that only other one in all the earth to match The Comet, the wondrous red king of John Hannon's brood?"

CHAPTER V

"Why Don't You Run, Redstar?"

NIGHT lay soft on Paradise. Tree fountains barked at intervals and a cicada stirred its endless tune, while out in one of the gay-fringed hammocks young Felicia, slim and brown, listened with downcast eyes to the gentle voice of Arlas Gomez, also slim and brown, pleading the ancient tale in the ancient way.

In the great room of the deep adobe house there were no candles lighted, for though Felicia had come soft-footed to do that service, the master had waved her away. John Hannon sat in one of the big chairs with the cushions and smoked the short pipe that always rode in his inside pocket or between his lips, and listened in ineffable content to the gentle airs that came softly from the ancient keys under Belle Hannon's fingers.

Stretched on a couch in the farthest corner, her slim length well-nigh compassing it from end to end, her sun-browned hands beneath her head, Val lay and listened, too, though her thoughts were not in the past but the future—they had to do with the coming dance at Hannon's store, and with the gay bunch of riders from the outlying ranches who would be there in all their gala attire.

It would be Fourth of July and every cow-puncher who could straddle a cayuse would attend. There would be races, and, as always, the Red Brood would be there, too.

All that is, but Old Hotfoot, shut out of the excitement by constant motherhood—and Redstar the king.

Lightning would run away from all and sundry as he had done for two years now, and Dawnlight, if the master would put her up, would make a speedy showing, and this year, for the first time, the young-matched racers, Firebrand and The Flame, would have their chance.

Redcloud was getting a trifle old, and she had overheard some talk between the boss and Tom Briston concerning his withholding.

WITH A QUICK SPRING VELANTRIO WAS ON HIS FEET. HE SWEEPED THE BAG OF GOLD INTO HIS HAND.

Poor Redcloud—wild and strong and keen as the wind in spring!

She visioned him, screaming in his stockade, pounding the earth with his shilling hoofs, when the rest went off to town—for the first time without him!

She frowned in the dusk with a quick sorrow for the old racer's passing.

Redstar now—Redstar the great king—he would prize placidly in his green field and take no note of the Red Brood's arrogance and pride as they trotted away, each with a rider in attendance.

He would not so much as raise his splendid head, blink his soft eyes.

And yet of them all he was the king—faster than their fastest, stronger than their best.

"Dad," Val said presently, when there came a lull in the tinkling music while Belle Hannon hummed an elusive melody the better to bring it to her fingertips. "Dad—why have you never run Redstar in the races?"

"Eh?"

"The rancher took the pipe from his lips suddenly and sat up in his chair. His handsome dark eyes, so like Val's own in one or two expressions, narrowed in the darkness.

"Why do you ask me that?"

At the tone of his voice any one on the ranch, save and except these two women, would have ceased to press the conversation.

"Why I don't know," his daughter answered calmly, "except that, keen as you are on horseflesh, and racing, you've never let him run. And you know, and I know, that he can beat anything under God's heaven that ever ran on these plains."

John Hannon put the pipe back between his lips.

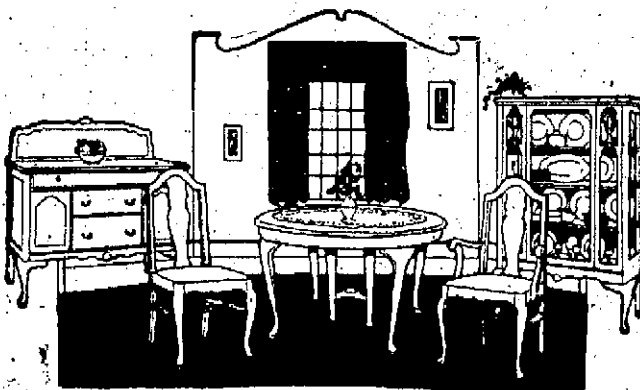

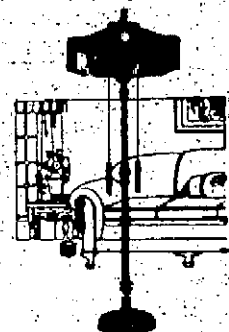

"Perhaps," he said, "that's just the reason. He's too good."

"Dad," Val said presently, when there came a lull in the tinkling music while Belle Hannon hummed an elusive melody the better to bring it to her fingertips. "Dad—why have you never run Redstar in the races?"

"Eh?"

"The rancher took the pipe from his lips suddenly and sat up in his chair. His handsome dark eyes, so like Val's own in one or two expressions, narrowed in the darkness.

"Why do you ask me that?"

At the tone of his voice any one on the ranch, save and except these two women, would have ceased to press the conversation.

"Why I don't know," his daughter answered calmly, "except that, keen as you are on horseflesh, and racing, you've never let him run. And you know, and I know, that he can beat anything under God's heaven that ever ran on these plains."

John Hannon put the pipe back between his lips.

"Perhaps," he said, "that's just the reason. He's too good."

"That's so. There's nothing to run with him—not in a mile—not a thousand miles! And he'd dwarf the Red Brood down to nothing. Yes—I see."

She lay silent, thinking, while the elusive melody, caught in Belle Hannon's pale fingers, came tinkling forth in the twilight.

At the end of an hour of perfect quiet, save for the old piano's voice, when her mother swung around on the ancient bench and the master rose to take the outstretched hand that had held him fast for so many years, Val stretched her heady young body and rose also.

"Dad," she said again, "did you ever see a horse that looked like Redstar in every line and motion?"

John Hannon stepped in his tracks, stockstill.

"No," he said at last, sharply, "Why?"

"Because I did—from the top of Mesa Grande the other day—a horse that led a bunch of riders from up Leandra way—a horse that was a dead ringer for the Redstar, or for a liar. Color, size, speed, action—it might have been the king himself. If I had not sat upon him myself that very minute I'd have said it was the king."

The rancher wet his lips, but he straightened up, and, taking his wife's hand, led her down from behind the bench, his arm about her frail shoulders.

"You're seeing things, Val," he said with a careless laugh, "there's no horse in this country that looks like the Redstar. The height of the mesa—that distance—they distorted your sight. No—there ain't no match for him this side o'—"

"Where?" asked Val as her father paused.

"Hell," he said succinctly and led his wife away.

If to his women John Hannon was good and brave and tender, combining the rugged qualities that passed for virtue in this wild land, there were others in the scattered community who thought differently.

Quilana of the Barstar, for instance, over at the southwest beyond the Broken Buttes, whose fine black racer, Live Coal, had been run off his feet by Redcloud in his prime—and the Attribon boys, Sam and Deke, of the Circle A, forty miles due west, whose tongues were not so guarded as they might have been.

R. E. Lewis Watches Surgeons Scrape Skin Bone; Says "Poo" To Anaesthetic

No one has ever questioned the statement that R. E. (Bob) Lewis had plenty of nerve. He proved it beyond the range of doubt Monday when he lay on the operating table in St. Elizabeth hospital and let his right side be scraped and part of the flesh cut away without taking an anesthetic. He came through the ordeal unscathed and the attending physicians, Dr. J. S. Rarden and W. W. Smith, say his skin will heal rapidly as the seal of infection has been removed. Mr. Lewis injured his leg eight years ago.

Tracy Finds Duplicates

COLUMBUS, N. J., January 30.—(By the United Press)—State Auditor Tracy today found in his office duplicates of the now famous missing records of the state emergency and control board demanded of former State Finance Director W. Albert Davis, by Governor Doremus. So far as I can find these records are complete of both boards, Tracy said.

The records are to be turned over to Finance Director Baker today. The governor's office indicated, however, that while the duplicates may be of material importance the demand for the original records still stands. Neither the governor nor the finance director had received any communication from Davis.

HUGE DEMONSTRATION BY GERMANS

BERLIN, January 27.—Huge anti-French demonstrations throughout the Rhineland and the Ruhr this afternoon answered the tightening grip of the invaders. Hostile outbreaks at Bonn, Dortmund, Aix Chapelle, Bochum, Mannheim and other Rhine centers, followed announcement of drastic measures of repression to be inflicted by the French army of occupation.

Eyes Frozen, Pilot Falls Unconscious In Plane But Has Remarkable Escape

MT. CLEMENS, MICH., Jan. 30.—Unconscious because of the severe cold, Lieutenant James D. Summers, a pilot of the first pursuit group at Selfridge Field, fell from an altitude of 19,000 feet to within three hundred feet of the ground here Saturday afternoon, a drop of nearly four miles before he recovered his senses, righted his plane and made a safe landing.

Announcement of his experience was kept secret by aigleters at Selfridge Field until late today, when it was freely related. Summers had been ordered to take part in maneuvers by Brig. Gen. William Mitchell. With several other aviators he was mounted to a height of 19,000 feet when thermometers on the planes register 20 degrees below zero.

Summers was but half conscious when other aviators reached him after his descent. Examining physicians announced that he had lost all consciousness and had been frozen, causing temporary blindness and that unconsciousness probably followed in a few seconds. He practically had recovered today, it was announced.

Describing his experience today, Lieutenant Summers said: "At 19,000 feet my motor was running smoothly but the cold seemed to chill me. I was making about 175 miles an hour. Suddenly everything began to get hazy and I started to work the controls. Then everything went black. When I revived, I was dropping rapidly and but about 400 feet above the earth. Somehow, I don't know how, I got my ship under control, and made a safe landing."

Other Aviators Mystified. Other aviators with the group in which Lieutenant Summers was flying also were unable to account for the sudden righting of the plane, having considered it impossible to land safely from such a low altitude.

The plane had followed Lieutenant Summers' plane in its descent, expecting to see it crash, but instead they saw it miraculously righted and safely brought to earth. That it had not righted itself was shown, the aviators declare, by the fact Lieutenant Summers found it out of control and careening when he regained consciousness.

MAIL CARRIERS TO FEED BIRCH

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 30.—Three officials of the Independent Drug Company, of Cincinnati, were indicted today by the federal grand jury for alleged violation of the federal prohibition laws. Those indicted are Otto Katz, President, George H. Lanier, Vice-President, and Sidney H. Miller, Secretary.

One thousand offenses involving one million dollars worth of whiskey, according to United States District Attorney Thomas H. Morrow, are alleged in the indictment, which charges the three men with having conspired to divert the whiskey without proper permits, into channels for use as a beverage.

Sold Without Permits. The indictments set forth that the whiskey was sold without permits at Owensboro, Frankfort and Louisville, Kentucky, and at Troy, Ohio, and that it was sold to persons in Cincinnati, Butte, Montana, Newport News, Virginia, Philadelphia, Hannibal, Missouri, Fort Worth Texas and other cities.

The indictment is the result of weeks of investigation by federal prohibition agents. United States District Attorney Morrow said after the grand jury had reported. Witnesses examined by the jury included retail druggists from various cities of the country, who it is alleged had dealt with the Independent Drug Company, one of the largest wholesale drug concerns in Cincinnati. The defendants also are charged with failing to keep a record of sales of whiskey and alcohol and failing to at-

NOTHING NEW ABOUT THIS WRINKLE

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 30.—(United Press)—Newspaper correspondents in Paris, recently cabled American newspapers a story that French women were dyeing their pet dogs in colors to match their dresses. They declared it was a new wrinkle. A newspaper published here December 22, 1904, contained the following: "The ladies of Paris, not content with dyeing their hair red, now dye their lapdogs the colour of their dresses. Sky-blue dogs are all the rage."

STATE OF SIEGE NEAR IN RUHR

LONDON, January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The likelihood of a state of siege throughout the Ruhr is indicated in a Duesseldorf dispatch to the Times which says that General DeGoutte has distributed to the police a proclamation forbidding any civilian activity in the streets between the hours of 10 p. m. and six a. m. The maximum penalty afforded by French law—five years imprisonment or a ten million mark fine—is the penalty for violation of the order, which is to be promulgated shortly.

Attempt To Wreck General Weygand's Train

DUESSELDORF, January 30.—(By the Associated Press)—An attempt to wreck the train on which General Weygand and Minister of Public Works Le Trocquer, were travelling to Duesseldorf from Paris, is reported to have occurred at Duerin last evening. Other incidents of sabotage, such as the wrecking of signal boxes on the Ruhr railroads, have also come to the attention of the occupation officials.

The train on which the general and minister were passengers, was halted in time to avoid striking an obstruction placed on the tracks.

German traitors at Duerin assert that the incident was unintentional.

General Weygand and M. Le Trocquer had a long conference last evening with General DeGoutte, M. Coste and other occupation officials. Later the minister left for Brussels to ask the Belgian government's approval of the decisions reached.

The greatest secrecy was maintained as to the results of the conference, but the indications point to the establishment of a customs ring around the occupied Ruhr Valley and the complete stoppage of coal shipments into the interior of Germany. It is believed that these measures will be put into effect on February 1.

Customs officials have been stationed at Duesseldorf and Essen for several days have received orders to proceed to the frontier of the occupied territory at the points entering Germany. They have also been ordered to the locks and canals on the rivers Lippe and Rhine.

The arrests and expulsions of German officials have not yet been completed.

More expulsions are expected for Essen, while the cities of Dortmund, Bochum, Gelsenkirchen, Duisburg, Hamburg and Ruhrort will be penalized in the same manner in preparation for their seizure. The telephone strike is not quite as effective as the telegraph tie-up. Postal service with the outside world is at a standstill.

The gas and electrical workers by a vote of 2 to 1, have decided NOT to strike.

The miners continue to turn out about two-thirds of the normal production of coal, but the stoppage of the railroad traffic and the schedule of empty cars are causing congestion at the pit heads and it is thought that the mines must close in a few days unless some remedy is found.

The Hibernians had a jolly time at their ball given at Richardson's Hall. The River City Mandolin Club furnished the music and the dance concluded with a grand march at one o'clock.

Judge Henry Collins and Vallee Harold were initiated as members of the local Lodge of Elks. After the meeting the members had a banquet at the Palace Restaurant.

Beat It, Police Order

Branded as an imposter, James Dougherty, picked up by the police a few days ago for begging on the streets, was released Monday and ordered to make himself scarce around this neck of the woods. The man, wearing a long grayish black beard and smoked glasses, posed as being blind and disabled, it is claimed, but an investigation disclosed that he could see and was not disabled in any way. This resulted in his banishment.

ACCUSED OF SHOOTING WIFE

ASHLAND, Ky., Jan. 30—Ashland police are searching for Ellis Brown, negro, who is charged with shooting his wife while at his home, 611 West Carter street, last night at 7:30 o'clock. The wife claims that Brown attempted to kill her. The bullet only grazed her forehead. She also said that Brown was drunk at the time. He skipped out soon after the shooting.

Pimpy? Well, Don't Be

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever "cured" with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torrid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Old people, young people, men, women, children, afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. Use and Be—Advertisement.

Get Your Money

Birth and Death Rates Show Increase In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 30—Birth and death rates in Ohio both showed an increase in December over the preceding month, the report of Dr. E. J. Schwartz, chief of the division of vital statistics, reveals.

The total number of deaths in Ohio last month was 607, an increase of 815 over November. To offset this increase of 13 per cent in deaths, the birth rate for the state went from 1.50 per cent to 1.67 per cent. There were 10,000 children born during December, an increase of 403. In December 392 more babies were born than there were persons who died and the preponderance of births over deaths for the two month period, December and November, was 8316. Infant deaths in December were 687, or 84 more than for November.

Jackson Leads

Strangely enough the city of Jackson had not only the highest death rate for last month, but also the largest number of births in comparison with its population. The deaths were 14, which sent the rate up from 1.01 per cent to 2.35; the births totaled 22, or 3.70 per cent as against 1.85 for the foregoing month. Greenville was second in the order of deaths, with 17, for a percentage of 2.32, while Gallipolis was third with 14 deaths for a total of 2.25. In November the rate in Gallipolis was 3.38, the highest in the state, so that this town finished among the first three both times. This is due to the epileptic hospital in this city. Dr. Schwartz explained.

Quality and Charm Distinguish "SALADA" TEA

"The most Delicious Tea you can buy." Sold only in sealed metal packets NEVER IN BULK

The healthiest towns in the state during the last month were East Youngstown, East Cleveland and Ashtabula, with 46, 59 and 60 per cent, respectively. Of the six largest cities, Dayton had the highest death rate, 1.83, and Akron the lowest, with .69, while Cleveland was second lowest with .93 or .58 per cent lower than its sister city, Cincinnati.

Home and Porch Dresses

An Eagerly Awaited Annual Event That Sounds The First Note of Spring

This annual Spring showing and Sale of Barmon Dresses has become one of the most important events of the year and women have accustomed themselves to look forward to this Sale as the ideal time to purchase their Spring supply of Washable Frocks for home and porch wear.

This season the styles are charming beyond description. The colors radiate and sparkle with the brilliancy of Spring buds and blossoms and will win the admiration of all women who seek Frocks of rare loveliness and extraordinary economy.

Be Sure To See The Feature Demonstration

Barmon Dresses have Four Famous Features which will be demonstrated at our Store during the course of this Sale. Every woman who is interested in dresses of better fit, greater comfort and longer service should see this demonstration.

By buttoning two tabs, concealed beneath a smart panel at the back of the dress, the size of the garment can be so altered to perfectly fit any and all types of figures.

Under-Arm Shields are tailored into these Dresses and provide practically double service at these points, which all women know are first to wear out on ordinary dresses.

If it becomes necessary to lengthen the skirt, due to tall figures or shrinkage, you need only pull a thread which releases a two-inch concealed tuck. No refitting necessary.

Every Barmon Dress is provided with two Menders of Fine Material, which are fastened to the inner part of the garment. Torn or worn places are quickly and neatly repaired with these Menders.

The Most Difficult Figures Are Perfectly Fitted

All women of large, full-fashioned or unusual proportions, who have always experienced difficulty in being properly fitted—can be perfectly fitted—with Barmon Dresses due to a patented Size-Adjustment which is an exclusive Barmon feature—and which accomplishes this perfection of fit with slenderizing, complimentary effect.

The Moderate Cost Will Amaze and Delight You

It is difficult to understand how such finely made garments—fashioned from the best of Percal, Madras, Chambrays and Gingham—beautifully trimmed and decorated, can be offered at such trifling costs—and you will quickly follow the example of other women who buy their full Spring supply while this sale is in progress.

These Fine Dresses Range In Price From $2.00 to $5.00

All sizes from 16 to 18 and 36 to 56 are included in this sale—in more than 50 smart models—and phone or mail orders will be promptly filled.

Roll Is Missing; Two Men Held To Grand Jury

When C. McGuire, half asleep, saw a friend from an adjoining room enter his room, he did not think anything of it but when he went to a chair on which he hung his trousers, McGuire became suspicious. When the friend left the room he investigated and found $37 missing from his trousers, he says.

McGuire then swore out warrants for the arrest of Charles Burchett and Joseph Burge, friends, at the same rooming house where he stayed. McGuire charged the men with grand larceny.

At the hearing of the two men yesterday, McGuire claimed that Burge was the man who came into his room and "lifted the roll."

Burge, on the witness stand, according to officers, admitted taking the money, but claimed he got it for Burchett. Burchett admitted receiving the stolen money. Mayor W. E. Newberry found one to be as guilty as the other and held them to the grand jury under $500 bonds, which they were unable to furnish. They were taken to the county jail Monday evening.

Greenup May Get Branch Plant

(Special To The Times)

GREENUP, Jan. 30—There is a possibility of Greenup getting a branch plant of a big cigar concern, if plans under way terminate. Representatives of the General Manufacturing company of New York were in Greenup recently looking over the field.

The business men of the town lastly got together and organized a Business Men's Improvement club. As a result the club is endeavoring to raise a subscription to meet the expenses and get the necessary information desired by the company. The first information the company wants is a guarantee of securing the employment of 100 or 150 girls which the club is now endeavoring to do. Letters with return cards are being sent throughout the county for this purpose. It is thought that this will be a very hard task. The General Manufacturing company of New York is a large concern and manufacture numerous brands of high grade cigars. They already have seventy-five branch factories throughout the United States and are seeking a location near the raw product.

Dillow Bound Over
Charles Dillow, 49 years old, charged with cutting with intent to wound Homer Gilliland, was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond by Judge McCall, following a preliminary hearing in Municipal court Tuesday afternoon

The evidence disclosed that the trouble occurred on the afternoon of Sunday, January 7, when Gilliland claimed that while he was on his way home from work at the N. & W. shops he was attacked by Dillow on Eighth street, near Lawson's Run. During the fight, which ensued, Gilliland was severely slashed with a knife on his left temple and left arm, he said. Gilliland and a number of other witnesses, including John Hule, Russell Erwin, Gus Spence, Harrison Clark, and Irvn Wright, identified the defendant in the fight

Attorney H. T. Bannon appeared for the prosecution, and Attorney B. F. Kimble for the defendant. Dillow is a former N. & W. employee, and is out on strike, it was brought out at the hearing

LOCAL NEWS
M. C. Ball, an N. & W. brakeman, sustained a badly bruised right hip Tuesday at Waverly. He was getting off a freight train and was looking towards the rear of it when he crashed against a switch stand. On arrival here he was met by Dr. S. S. Holdersen, company surgeon, who took Ball to his home, 3719 Grace street, New Boston

Thomas Murphy, aged 32, accused of passing three worthless checks in Portsmouth when arraigned in Municipal court Tuesday waived examination and was held to the grand jury, his bond being fixed at $800 on each complaint. Murphy is the only toughed chap, who police say admitted after his arrest that he left a trail of cold checks in many cities throughout the country

Answering the call of their chairman the losing side in the recent membership contest held by Ellrose Temple, Pythian Sisters, met at 6 o'clock Monday afternoon and completed plans for a big banquet to be served Thursday evening to the winners in the campaign, the candidates, and other members of the Temple

The supper is to begin at six o'clock at the hall. The following program has been arranged for the evening: 6 o'clock, "Deans On a Shingle"; 7:30, Lodge Meeting; 8:30, General Good Time. Every member is urged to come and be convinced

Mrs. Lillian Elliott headed the losing side in the membership contest. Plans have been made to serve 300 members

Success of the Premier Chautauque Circuit program in Portsmouth, was assured Tuesday when the executive committee of the local Boy Scout organization voted unanimously to instruct Scout Executive Henderson to close the contract with Captain Dietrich of the Chautauque, who has been in town several days

The action of the Boy Scout officials has the unanimous endorsement of the churches and schools which handled the program last summer. Profits from the ticket sale will go toward the permanent camp fund of the Scouts

At 3 o'clock this afternoon water started to creeping over the "Y" road leading to the West Side from the city. If the Ohio river two more feet the entire road will be submerged, the first time since it has been paved. Traffic to the West Side will then be diverted over the old road west of Union Mills

A deputy state fire marshal arrived in the city Tuesday to conduct an investigation of the mysterious fire at the Tom Buck barn on Sand Run, Sunday night. He may also investigate the dynamiting of the Fred Briggs home in City View

The deputy fire marshal will relieve the sheriff's office of the work of investigating the fire. It is believed that a thorough investigation may lead to a good clue as to the identity of the person who is thought to have set the barn afire

The N. & W. and C. & O. stations here and at other points along the two lines are not accepting any freight for distribution through the Toledo gateway. There is an embargo on freight moving through Toledo yards on account of congestion there. The same condition exists in many places in the East

OBITUARY
Mrs. Mary S. Cotton, one of Portsmouth's oldest and most beloved residents passed to her final reward at 6:30 Monday evening. Her death taking place at the family residence, 712 Sixth street. Several weeks ago she suffered a broken hip when she fell in her home and never recovered from the shock, having been in a serious condition for over two weeks

Mrs. Mary Cone Shocum Cotton was born June 1, 1850 at Marietta, O., and was educated there, having unusual advantages for a woman of her time as she attended classes under well known Marietta professors. She was united in marriage to the late Dr. D. B. Cotton, for many years a leading practitioner of this city. To their happy union six children were born. Mrs. Stephen E. Cone of Cincinnati, Mrs. Edwin Erie Sparks of State College, Pa., Mrs. Wm. H. Schwartz of this city and Dr. Mary H. Cotton of Marietta, Ohio, and New York. Two children who passed away were Nellie and John Buck-minster Cotton. These grand children also survive. Mrs. Currier E. Sparks of Pickerington, N. J., and Mary Elizabeth and Spencer Schwartz of this city

Mrs. Cotton was always active in women's organizations in this city and was instrumental in the formation of the Portsmouth Magazine Club 50 years ago. She was conspicuous in the group of women who made it possible to have a Children's Home in Scioto county and assisted in its management until it eventually was taken over by county officials. She was a charter member of the Woman's Literary Club and organized and was the first regent of the Joseph Spencer Chapter Daughters of American Revolution, which was named for her ancestors. She was also a loyal and active member of the Reading and New Century Clubs

Mrs. Cotton, who leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn her passing was a most active member of the First Presbyterian church. She had served her Master faithfully and well and met death with sweetest resignation. She had led a life of usefulness and transition was as gentle and peaceful as the setting sun. Mrs. Cotton was always a gracious and hospitable hostess and was happiest when entertaining her congenial friends and club members. An atmosphere of contentment pervaded her home and a woman of culture and refinement, a woman unusually intelligent, one who was kind and generous to all passed away when her star ascended the heavenly realms

The funeral service will be held at the home 712 Sixth street Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Glaiser, pastor of First Presbyterian church officiating
Friends are invited to the home. Burial will be private

Mrs. Matilda Osborne
Mrs. Matilda Osborne, well known resident of Greenup county, died at 6:30 o'clock this morning at the home of her son, Warren Osborne of Gallia pike, Lakeside, east of New Boston. She had been ill three weeks with infirmities and was 77 years of age

The family moved to Lakeside about a month ago from Greenup county where they spent most of their life. In addition to her son Warren she leaves a married daughter in Jackson, O.

The remains will be taken Thursday to Kentucky and funeral services will be held from Bennett's Chapel

Mrs. Mary Price
Morgan Rowland, of 1517 Third street received a message Tuesday conveying the news of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Price, widow of the late Decece Price, who passed away at her home in Oak Hill. The deceased leaves numerous relatives and friends in Portsmouth

Mrs. A. F. Truitt
Mrs. A. F. Truitt of Sandy Springs passed away Monday morning at 2:30 at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Enoch McCall, at Sandy Springs, with whom she had been residing several years since the death of her husband. Mrs. Truitt was in her 80th year

She had been married twice. Her first husband was the late Allen W. Hoff, who resided near Buena Vista on a farm. After his death she went West where she resided with a sister, Mrs. Linn Hayslip of Topeka, Kansas. While there she was married to Thomas Truitt, an acquaintance of her girlhood days. After his death she resided with her sister until Mr. Hayslip's death, after which both came to Ohio and lived their home with their brother, Enoch McCall

Mrs. Truitt was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McCall, pioneer residents of Sandy Springs. She had been in her usual good health and retired Sunday evening about 9:30. She later arose, complaining of a pain over her eye. Her condition was not considered serious

About 2:30 a. m. she passed away. Her funeral will be Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. McCall. Burial in Sandy Springs cemetery

She was a highly respected citizen and all who knew her learned to love and respect her. The deceased was a woman of a lovely disposition with a kind word for all. She leaves many friends in Adams and Scioto counties. Two nieces, Mrs. Dunlap of Hillsboro and Mrs. Alra Murphy of near Pelee, O., also survive, in addition to relatives of her first husband

John Sperry
John Sperry of Brushart, Ky., died January 22nd, near the hour of three p. m. at the home of his son Benjie, at Brushart. Death was due to a dilated heart, caused by over exertion when their home was burned January 16th

He was born in Lawrence county Ohio, September 13th, 1852, being 70 years four months and nine days old when the end came

He was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Keneey of Lawrence county, Ohio in the year of 1877. Five children were born to this union. All have passed on except one son Benjie of Brushart, Ky. He is survived by his wife, one son, Benjie and two brothers, George Sperry of Portsmouth, and Ashur Sperry of California

He sought and found Jesus previous to his death in the early age of 15 years and united with the local Baptist church of Lawrence county, Ohio, and had since lived a consistent Christian life. At his death he was a member of the Leathwood Baptist church of Brushart. His remains were interred in Cooper cemetery January 25th. Rev. N. W. Kiser conducting the funeral services

Clean Kidneys By Drinking Lots Of Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become over-worked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation. The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Monford Slagle

For Your Back and Kidneys You Will Have Vigorous Vitality If You Follow This Advice

Columbus, Ohio.—"Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and bladder) Tablets are the best medicine I have ever taken for kidney disorders. My kidneys were congested and inactive, my back ached and was so sore I could not bear to touch it. In addition to my kidneys hurting, my bladder was very weak. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice and upon his advice I took the Anuric Tablets and the result was wonderful. I had taken Anuric only a very short time when I was rid of all my bladder weakness and my kidneys became active and normal. I do not suffer any more with my back. I would advise those who suffer with any kidney disorder or bladder trouble to take 'Anuric' without delay."—Monford Slagle, 417 W. High St.

Help your weakened kidneys by obtaining this "Anuric" (anti-uric acid) of Dr. Pierce at your nearest drug store or send him for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., or write for free medical advice.—Advertisement.

BLACK-DRAUGHT OVER 30 YEARS

"Saved Me Many A Sick Spell," Says Texas Farmer, Who Has Long Known Usefulness of Black-Draught

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Theodore's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out on Route 3 from here.

"I am 42 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puffy and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, since. I use Black-Draught now in my home and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble.

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs.

Black-Draught helps to keep the liver in trim, helping prevent or relieve such troubles as constipation, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache.

Be sure, to get the genuine.—advertisement.

Mrs. George Jones and daughters, the Misses Grace and Helen Jones, of Washington street, and Mr. Cecil McLaughlin, have returned from a motor trip to Cochocton, Ohio, where they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jones' brother, Mr. H. C. Waddell, whose funeral was held Sunday afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Evangelical church will hold their regular business meeting Thursday afternoon in the Sunday School room of the church. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Felix Haas of Fifth street, is visiting relatives and friends in Cincinnati.

Mr. J. E. Shump is ill with grip at his home, Hill Crest, on the West Side.

Mrs. W. T. Sowers will preside as hostess to the members of the Minerva Kensington Club, at her home, 1215 Kensington street, tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. George E. Matthews and sister, Miss Gertrude Matthews, entertained with an attractive dinner party last evening at their home, "Three Oaks" for the pleasure of Miss Mattie Draper, of this city, and Miss Eunice Munn, of Columbus.

The table was prettily appointed for the occasion, a color scheme of yellow, white and green being carried out in the decorations of narcissus and jonquils, and places were laid for Miss Eunice Munn, Miss Jessie Draper, Mrs. Pearl E. Selby, Mrs. G. D. Waite, Mrs. A. S. Duffell, Mrs. John M. Stockham, Mrs. George E. Matthews and Miss Gertrude Matthews.

After the dinner the remainder of the evening was spent informally in various social pastimes.

Mrs. Henry Jabold, of Fourth street, will celebrate her 90th birthday anniversary with a family dinner Wednesday. She is a life long resident of Portsmouth and is the widow of the late Henry Jabold, who passed away eight years ago.

Business Visitor

H. F. Geisler, a representative of the William Edwards company of Cleveland is in the city on business.

Attend Funeral

The funeral of Mrs. W. C. McDardel, of Rushtown, held Monday from the Rushtown church, was largely attended. Relatives from Portsmouth in attendance were: Mr. James McDardel, John McDardel and daughter-in-law, Mrs. John McDardel and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Irvin and family.

Near Concrete Floor

Firemen at the Seventh street department are busy putting down a new concrete floor in their building.

Rockefeller Withdraws Financial Support

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The financial support of John D. Rockefeller, Sr. and Jr., has been withdrawn from the anti-slavery league of New York state, it was learned today after the appearance of Raymond D. Fosdick, Representative of the Rockefeller family, at the District Attorney's inquiry into the financial affairs of William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the league.

Both the Rockefellers ceased contributing to the league several months ago. It was asserted, after the representatives were informed of the withdrawal, were splitting commissions on contributions.

Mr. Fosdick and Miss Maude Odell, assistant to Anderson, were the only two persons questioned today by Assistant District Attorney Pecora. The questioning of the state superintendent scheduled for today was postponed, at his request until Wednesday.

Police Investigating

The police are looking for the man who last night drove his machine 35 miles an hour south on Chillicothe street, and yelled "Police" at the top of his voice.

A Real Center

A telegraphic item in the Sun-Times that Cloyd Money of Jay, Indiana, had been appointed captain of the Ohio Northern University basketball five, was of more than usual interest to Superintendent A. B. Prior of Wheelersburg high school. While Prof. Prior was coach of basketball at the Fort Recovery high school in 1919, Money started his basketball career. He is a 6 foot, 4 inch center and one of those centers who make as many baskets as any forward. Money was a high school star in athletics and is a three letter man at Ohio Northern.

Get Fine Presents

Saturday night when a joint installation of officers was held by Peerless Camp Spanish War Veterans and their Auxiliary, suitable gifts were made to Past Department Commander John G. DeCamp, Past Department President Mrs. DeCamp of Hamilton and Past President of the local Auxiliary Mrs. Harry Mathlott. Mrs. DeCamp was presented with a traveler's toilet set in a leather case. Mrs. DeCamp received a silver serving tray and Mrs. Mathlott a leather traveling case and a Past President's jewel. Harry W. Mathlott made the presentation to Mr. DeCamp and Mrs. Charles Noel to Mrs. Mathlott.

Mr. DeCamp, who is well known to the Spanish War Veterans here, delivered a well prepared address.

FORGOTTEN SECURITIES

On one occasion years ago, when a legislative committee was investigating "high finance" the then venerable Russell Sage was on the stand. Among other things he was asked what was the amount of his holdings of the stock of a certain corporation and he declared he could not remember the exact amount. This was the answer of numerous similar questions. Finally counsel for the committee asked with studied sarcasm if Mr. Sage could remember within a million dollars or so the aggregate of his wealth. Again the witness replied that it would be impossible for him to state whether his total wealth was below or above a specified sum by a million or so. The newspapers of that day diverted their readers with many caustic comments upon the defective memory of financiers in general and the old millionaire in particular.

Statements made by the treasury department, however, indicate that there are scores if not hundreds of thousands of individuals in the United States today who are ignorant of their holdings of investment securities, or are careless in keeping tab of their financial interests. This is not because of the magnitude and variety of their operations, such as over taxed the memory of Mr. Sage, but because of lack of enlightened self-interest, which, where carried to extremes, keeps them in their comparatively lowly state. Treasury officials declare that owners of $236,000,000 Victory Notes were called for payment on December 15 last, on which date they ceased to bear interest, have not presented them for payment. Several hundred million dollars' worth of war savings certificates, which matured on the first day of the present month are also still outstanding, more than half a million of Civil War obligations have never been presented for payment and more than a third of a million of Spanish-American war bonds have never been surrendered in exchange for the cash which lies in treasury vaults for their payment.

Some subscribers for government obligations have forgotten them, others put them away so carefully that they have forgotten their hiding places, while others are just careless of their own legitimate interests. This state of mind is not confined to bond investors. It manifests itself among a considerable number of savings bank depositors who have forgotten their original impulse to thrift, and whose money after a specified number of years, is taken over by the state on the assumption of death without heirs of the depositor. In the light of these facts, a millionaire's occasional lack of memory on the witness stand appears entirely normal.

DISCIPLINE

THOSE with means to live well are urged to live moderately, lest those who are hungry become angry at the sight of gluttony, luxury and abuse of alcoholics, and use violence to compel a more equitable distribution. Such is the meaning of the manifesto of Chancellor Cuno directed to the states of the German republic.

Response to the warning will test the discipline of the German people. While it is palpably absurd to think that all Germans are starving, undoubtedly many are compelled to undergo hardships of the grossest kind. National humiliation is an additional burden and the whole is sufficient to try the souls of men.

In times of national stress, discipline is accepted almost without question. In the United States during the World War to ignore the rules of Hoover was to invoke the condemnation of conscience, if not that of fellow citizens. Moderation is healthful, truly, but except in emergencies it is difficult to enforce. Maintaining such rules in war is easy, but in peace almost impossible.

If there ever was a time when discipline was needed in Germany, however, it is now. There is much work to be done. A nation must be rebuilt in accordance with changed ideas. A nation must be restored to good grace in the eyes of the world. It is a task not only for the suffering, but for those with means. The danger is personal as well as national, but the duty is essentially patriotic. Will Germany meet the test?

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 30—The enterprising entrepreneur who made an excellent living giving "honor dinners" for New York celebrities, has shut up shop. The ancient game flickered out with the advent of so-called arid days.

All he needed was the "guest of honor's" consent and he sold the invitations at $10 a plate. There were years that he made as much as $50,000. Some of the most auspicious banquets ever held in New York were adroitly engineered by the genius who remained in the background.

In those days the late Remond Wolf could be depended upon to act as toastmaster. Rens sparkling wit made any banquet boredom-proof. The most sought after speaker for the few dinners that are given these days is Will Rogers, the cowboy comedian.

Not even Chauncey Depew in his palmy days could inspire more hilarity. Rogers cares little for the amenities. He is just as likely as not to appear at the most select gathering in every day clothes and blue flannel shirt.

His hair may be towseled and his beard in need of a razor, but when he stands up to talk he wins his audience. He has a trick air of bucolic naivete and he disregards all the ordinary rules of correct English.

The most consistent banquet guest in New York is Otto H. Kahn, the banker. It is proverbial that you will always find two men at every banquet—the man who wields the gavel and Mr. Kahn.

The decadence of the public banquet has been a severe blow to innkeepers. The revenue from banquet halls was tremendous. A half dozen hotels have made over their banquet rooms into living quarters for guests. They are convinced that the banquet as an American institution has gone the way of the corner saloon.

There are three Shakespearean productions on Broadway and still another in the offing, to say nothing of a drama called "Will Shakespeare." There are also three burlesques of "Romeo and Juliet" in musical comedies.

The most forlorn ladies in New York are to be seen in the late afternoon airing their poodles along Riverside Drive. Someone has called them "women with crepe de chine souls." They have their fine apartments, furs and limousines, but little of the human companionship that makes life worth while. Due to their manner of living, they are secretive and suspicious. Salacious novels, bon-bons and cigarettes offer the chief relief from dreary boredom.

Comic artists are supposed to be a rollicking lot—hurling their last picture bricks and raising a merry hurrah. It seems to me that nearly all I have met are moody and enter from suppressed desires. George Herriman, of Krazy Kat fame, wants to write bed-time stories for children. George McManus is bursting with ambition to become a portrait painter. Bud Fisher is devoted to his racing stable and nothing interests him so much as a thoroughbred horse.

There is a saloon on Eighth avenue that seems to be the last stand of the old-time groggery. It employs six bartenders and almost any time of day patrons are standing deep at the bar—and it is not serving near beer either. Another cellar place near the Palace theatre is the rendezvous for actors and intoxicating drinks are served openly. (Copyright 1923, By The McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Patch of Nut Brown Hue

Two girls met a boy one day. His legs were bristly scratched. His clothes were of blue, but a nut-brown hue.

Marked the place where his pants were patched. They laughed with joy at the blue-clad boy.

And his patch of nut-brown hue. "Why don't you patch with color to match?"

They said, "Why not with blue?" "Don't be coy, my blue-clad boy." "Speak up," and they laughed with glee.

When he hung his head as he bashfully said: "That ain't no patch, that's me." —Industrial Peace.

Happened in New York
A noted bishop of the Methodist Church was one day basking in the noonday sun in Central Park, New York, hoping thereby to ease his rheumatic limbs. After sitting for some time on the bench, he attempted to rise without success. A little girl nearby rushed to his aid, saying, "Oh, let me help you, I've helped grandpa up a lot of times, and he was lots drunker 'n you are."

A Wise Bug
A traveling man was registering at a hotel when a bedbug strolled across the page. He looked surprised, then remarked:
